I remember, like it was yesterday
I remember, listen to what I say
I've got stories, that I want to tell
I remember very well

(Ceil) I remember, the storm on Armistice Day
And how my father was saved
By a neighbor along the way
(Agnes) And I remember walking a long, long, time
For just one, long and fast, sled ride

(Maythel) I remember kicking that boy who first kicked me
And being the wrong one punished
(Cecil) By the teacher who happened to see
(Tony) And I remember that evening overseas
When we swapped water for wine
In our canteens

(Dorothy & Cecil) I remember stories I can't say
If you want to hear them
You'll have to wait another day
(Lee) And I remember when Uncle John came to town
There was plenty of joy and money
To go around
